MISS HALL'S SCHOOL

PITTSFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS

DEDICATION,

So - who is RBB, really, for all of us? The guy who lets us play those awful Senior pranks on him? The one who reminds some of us that "this place is too small for cliques, and, that there really are more than three other people in the school"? The aging "athlete" who can't stand not to win that annual student-faculty softball game? The liaison between students with growing pains and parents who "just don't understand?" The authoritarian who delivers suspensions? The jokester who loves to keep anecdotes for Ring Dinner and can't resist awarding embarrassing book prizes at the Headmaster's Dinner? The unofficial college counselor who offers advice on school lists as well as essays? The perennial host at junk food parties? The producer of tickets for mid-week rock concerts? The ghost writer who helps make commencement speeches relevant? The genius who gave us all the England trip? The fellow who orchestrates Freshman flag duty? The Birthday Night choral director? Or - as his son so aptly describes him, "the one who rings the bell at dinner" . . . He is, of course, one or many of these things to each of us. More than that though, he is a friend who has given us rare gifts - time, laughter, concern, and room to grow. For all that, "Bob", we say thanks, and wish you good luck and godspeed.

REBECCA DILSCHNEIDER

Elizabeth;
We were good friends. By that I mean we were good to each other.

Hepburn

To my friends;
Your laughter lightened my darkness,
your smiles warmed my heart, and your friendship has made me happy.

Mom, Dad, Joe, and Clare;
I love you more than words can say.
Thanks for your confidence and support.

ELIZABETH ANDREASEN

To my Dear Family,
Thank you for this opportunity
and your love and support.
I love you so much.

Thank you Rebecca & Debbie,
For being there when I needed you, listening to me. I could not have asked for any better of friends than you have proved to be.

Tomorrow we shall run faster and reach further.

TRACIE ANN JENKINS

Special thanks to:
Dad, Mom and family.
I also wish to thank everybody at Miss Hall's and Landmark.

An apple a day keeps the nurses away!!!

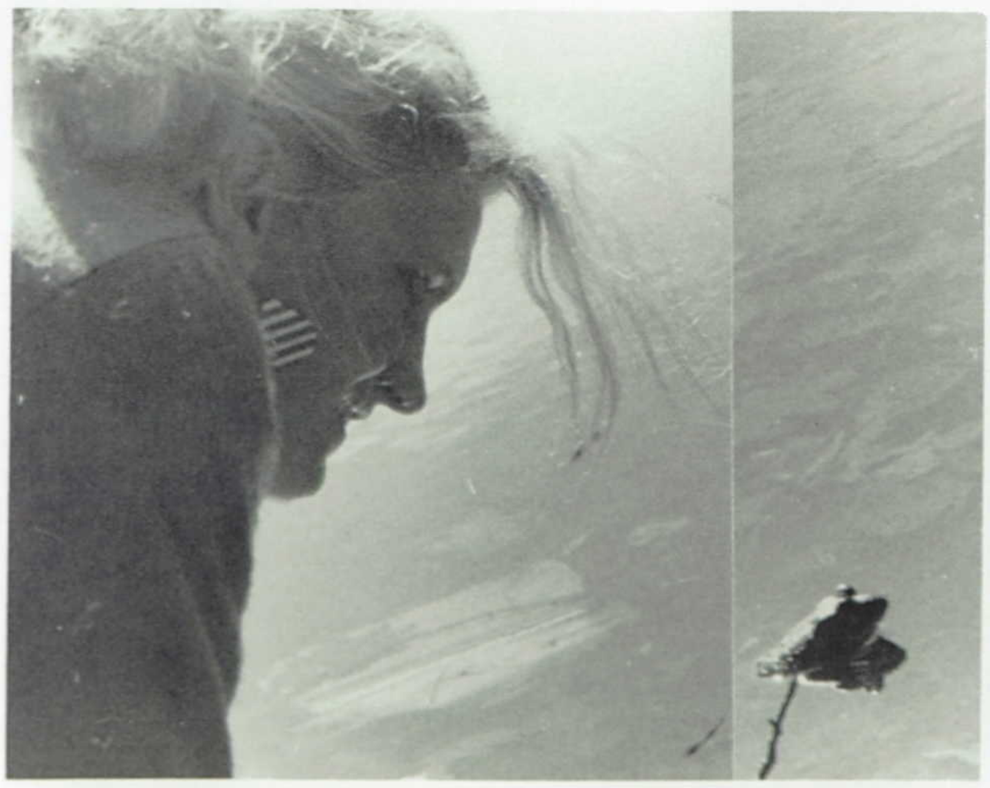

No you can't have any of my popcorn!

Magin, I don't want to leave you . . .

Just coming back from a "nature walk" Mr. Bussey!!!!

Could this be my prince???

See, no more blue . . .

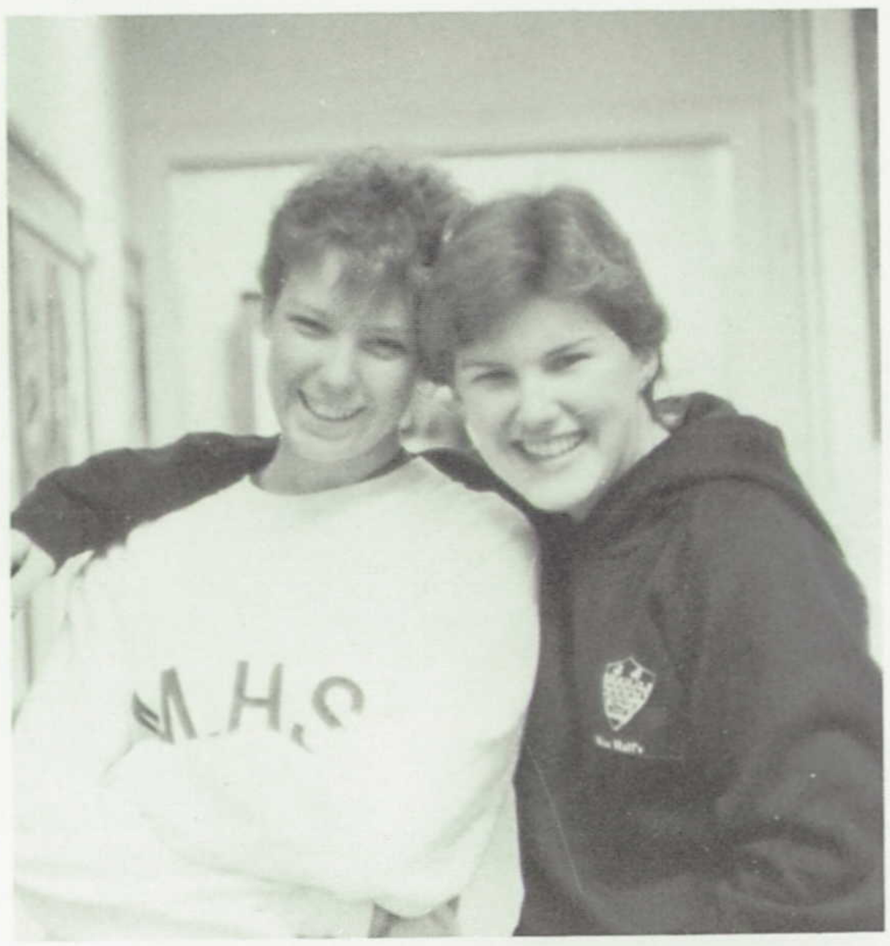

. . . A bouncing baby!!

Alumnae weekend!!

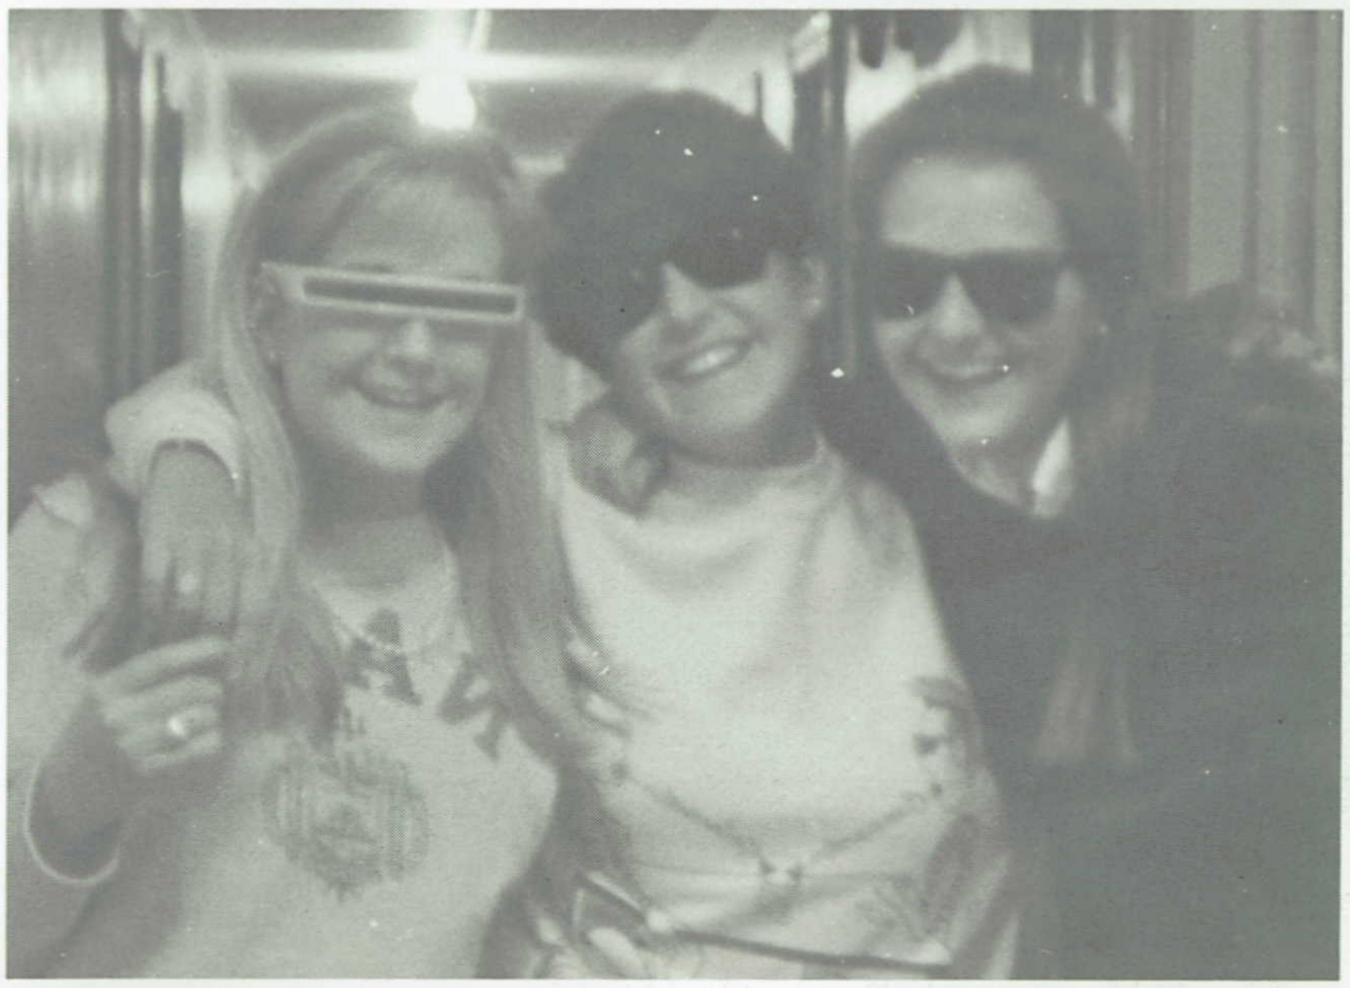

The next Marilyn Monroe!!!

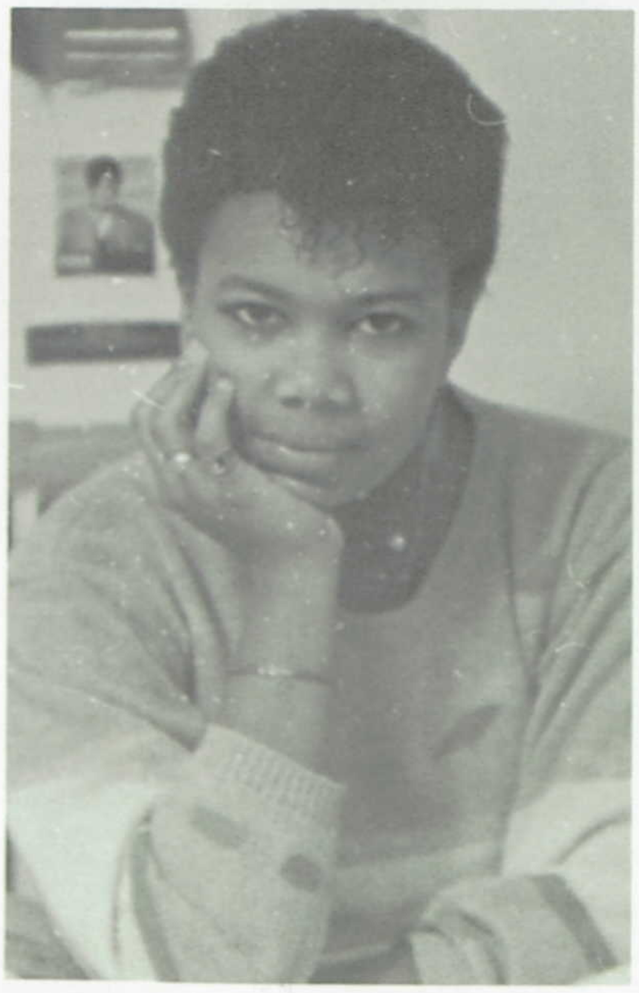

This girl belongs here!!

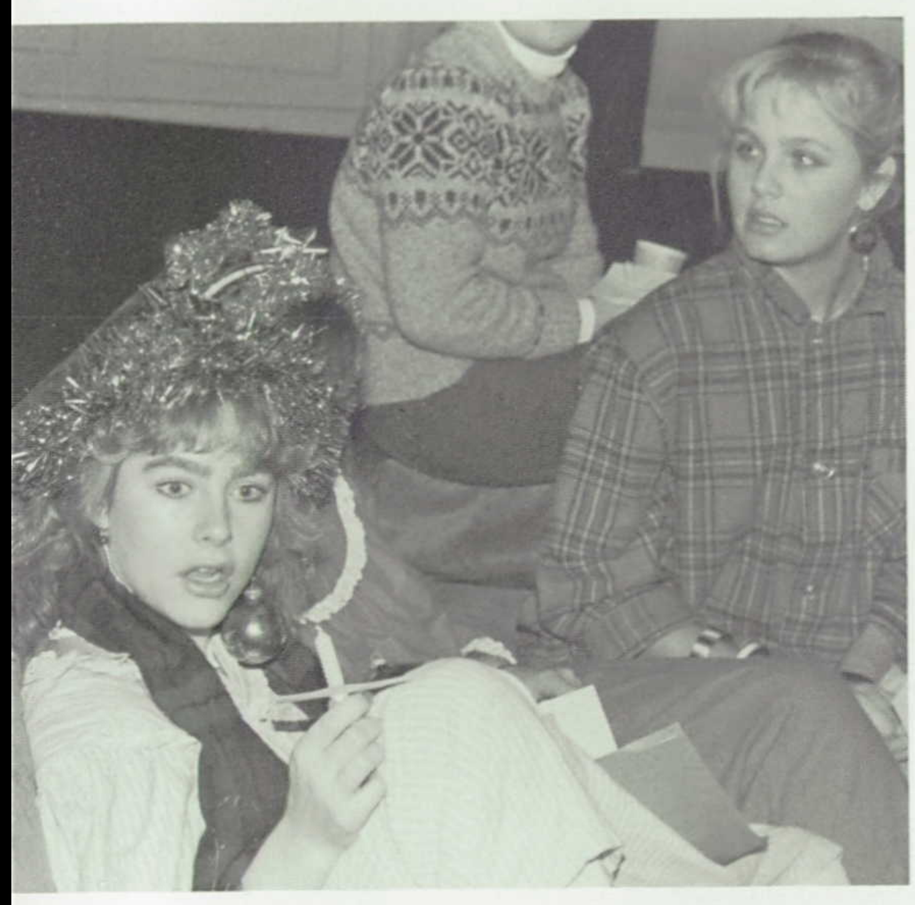

SENIOR CHRISTMAS TREE DECORATING

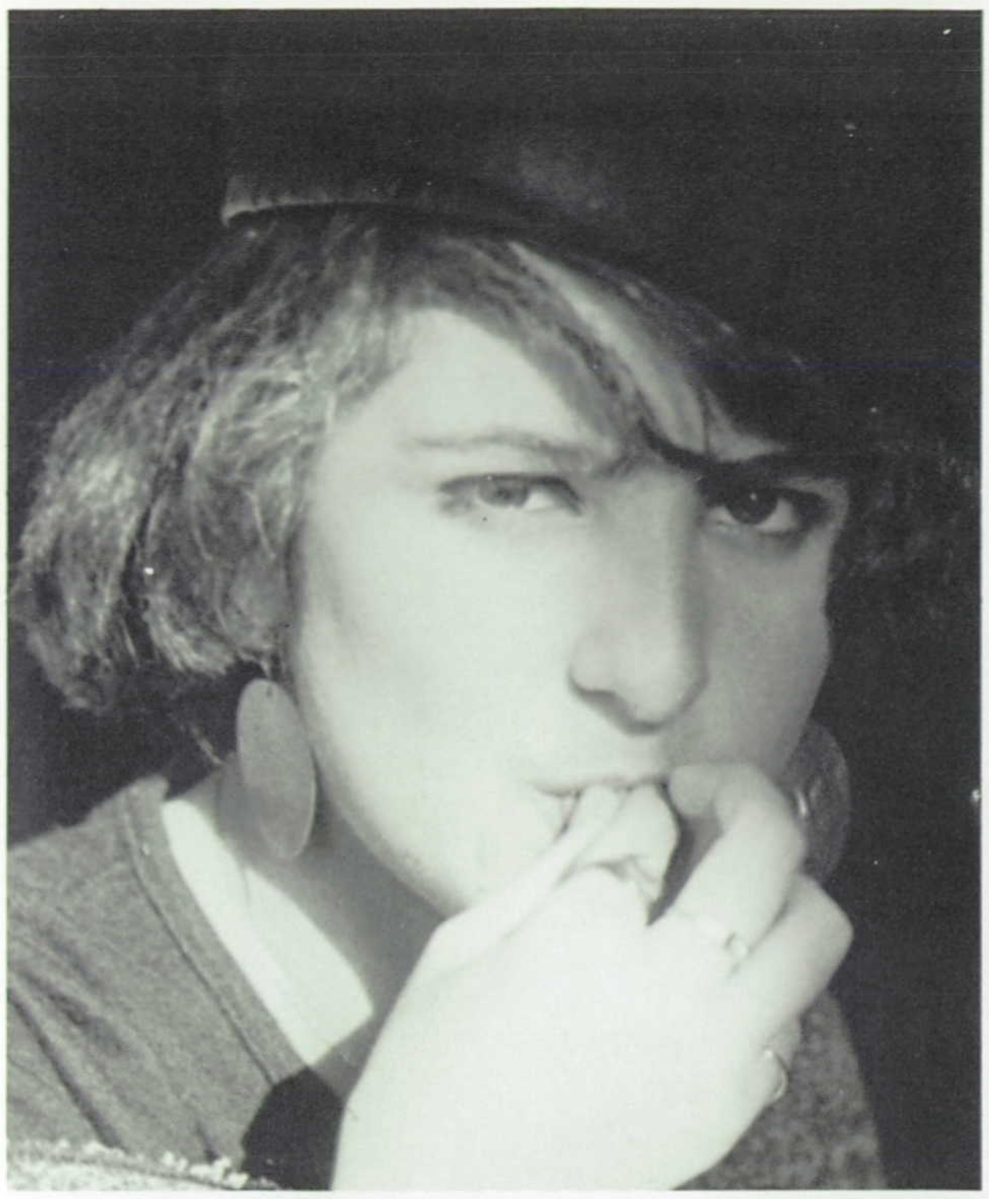

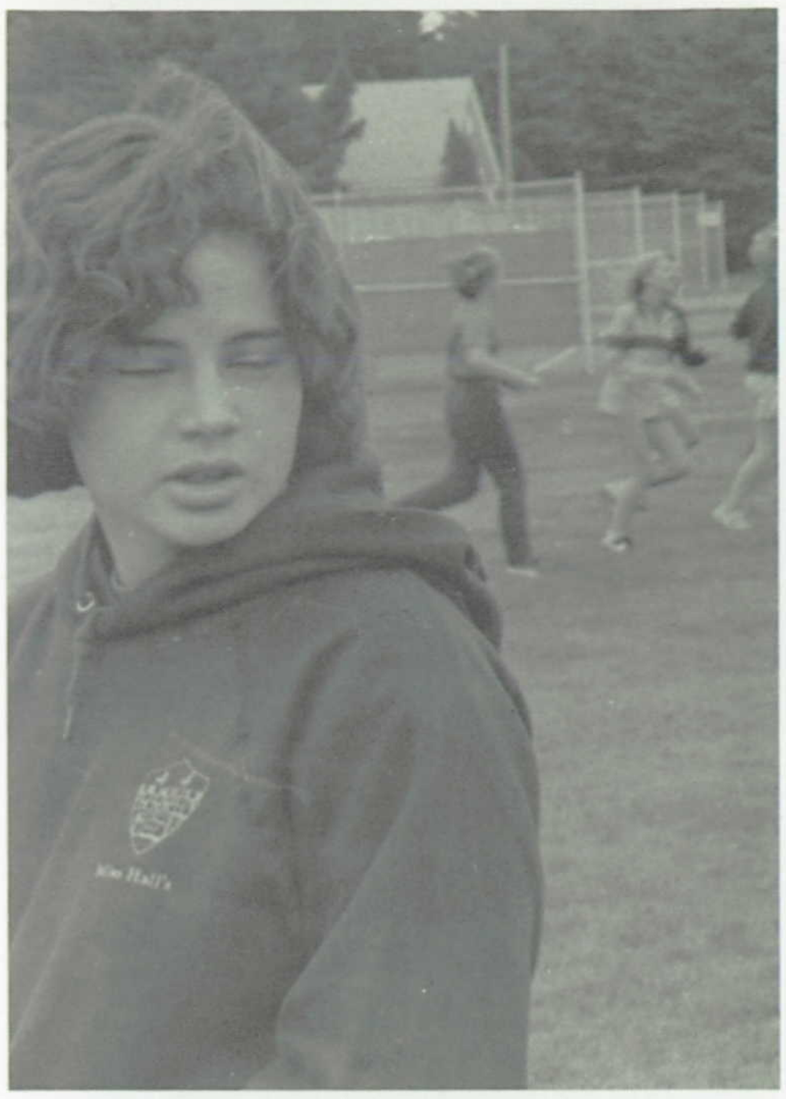

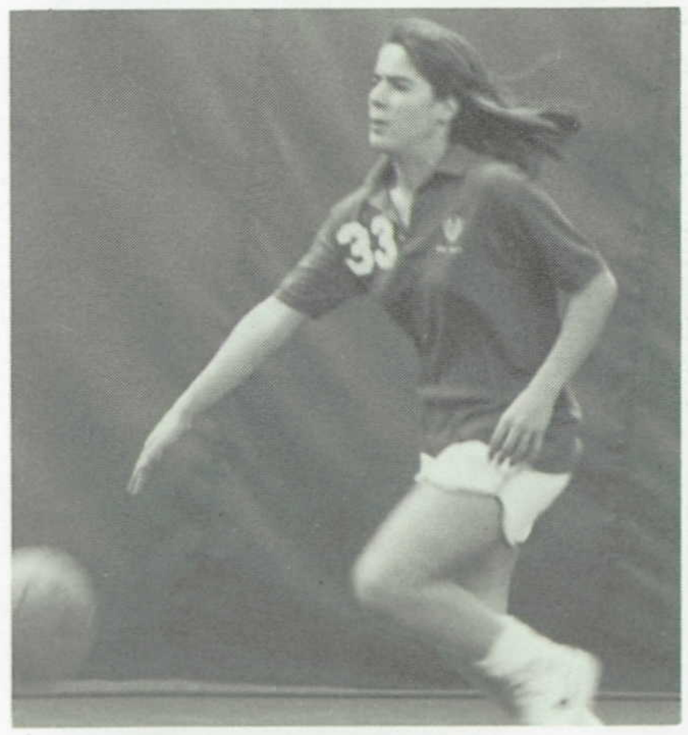

I can't wait to get back home!

It came from Jamaica.

How does this go??

Here she comes.

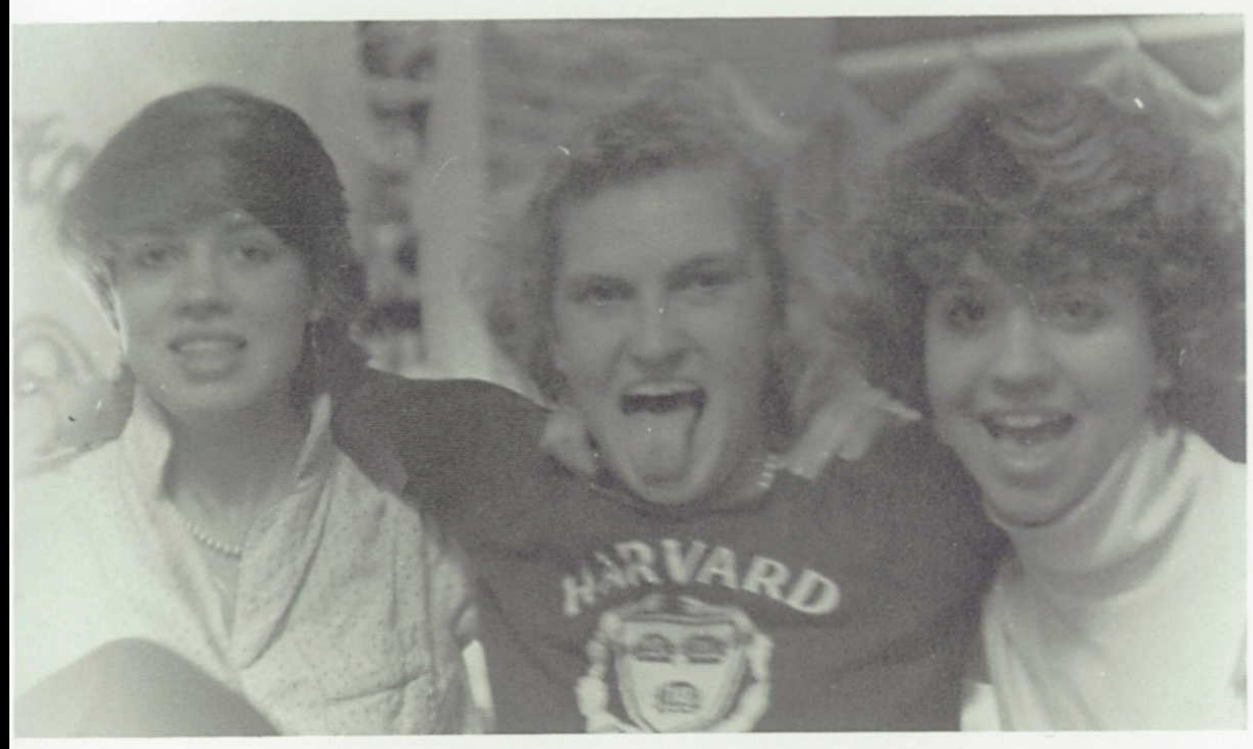

Some day my face will be on the wall.

Arriving bright eyed for another day's work . .

What a grip!!!

Will this get us into Harvard??

I busted Bob for butts!!!

True Love!!!

Do you think they'll notice at bed check???

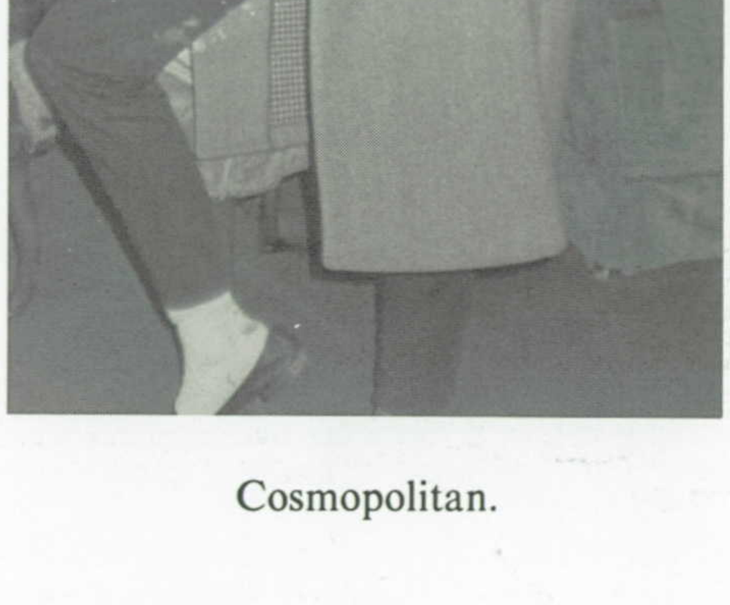

We are Innocent!!

I don't get it! What's it for?

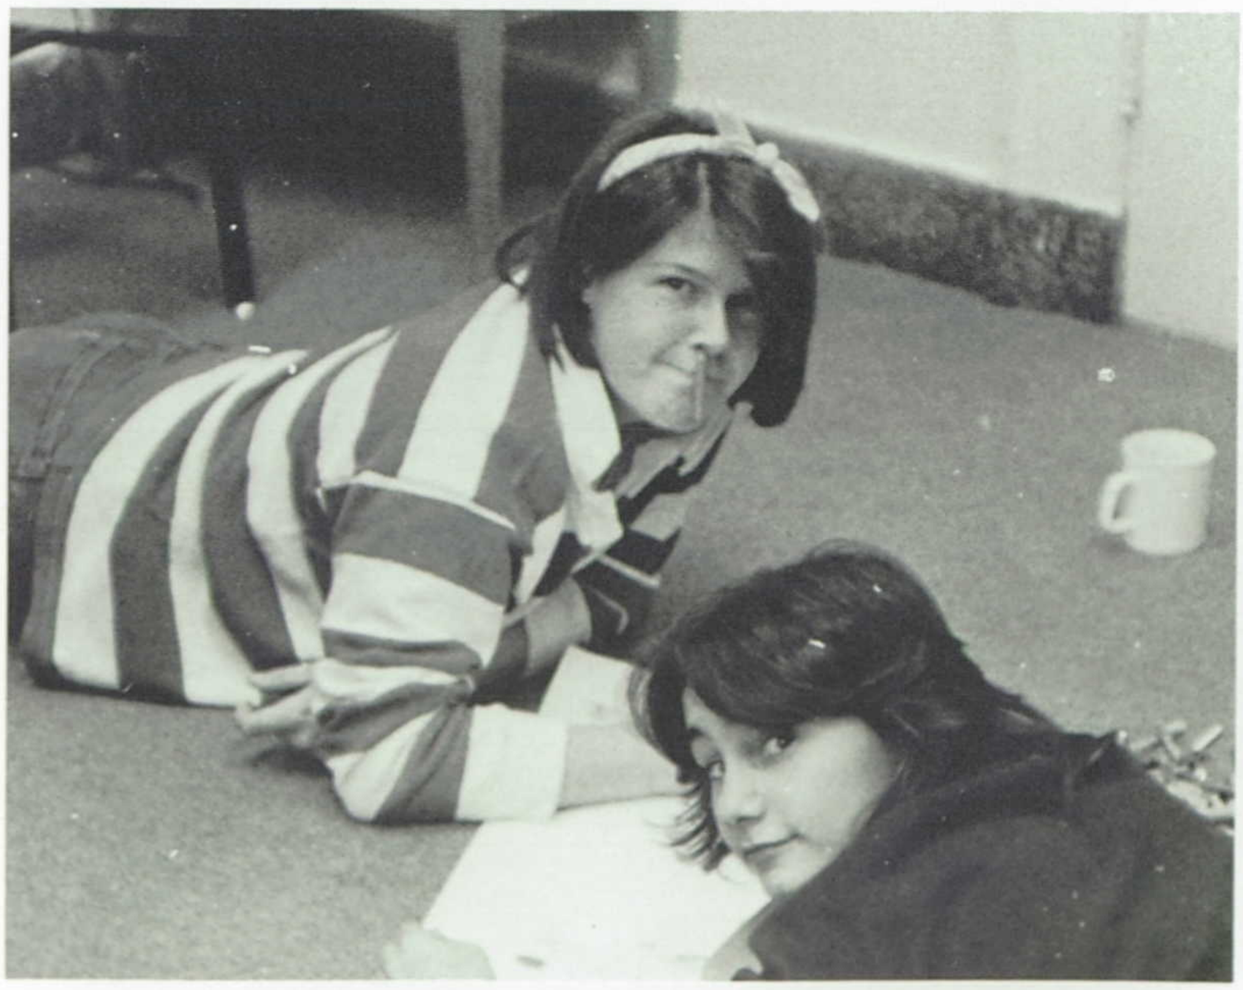

Will they ever grow up?

Cosmopolitan.

You've got to be kidding!!

I guess not!!

What's This???

The Outsiders!!!

This is all I need for New York!!

Look! It's Boy Jim . . .

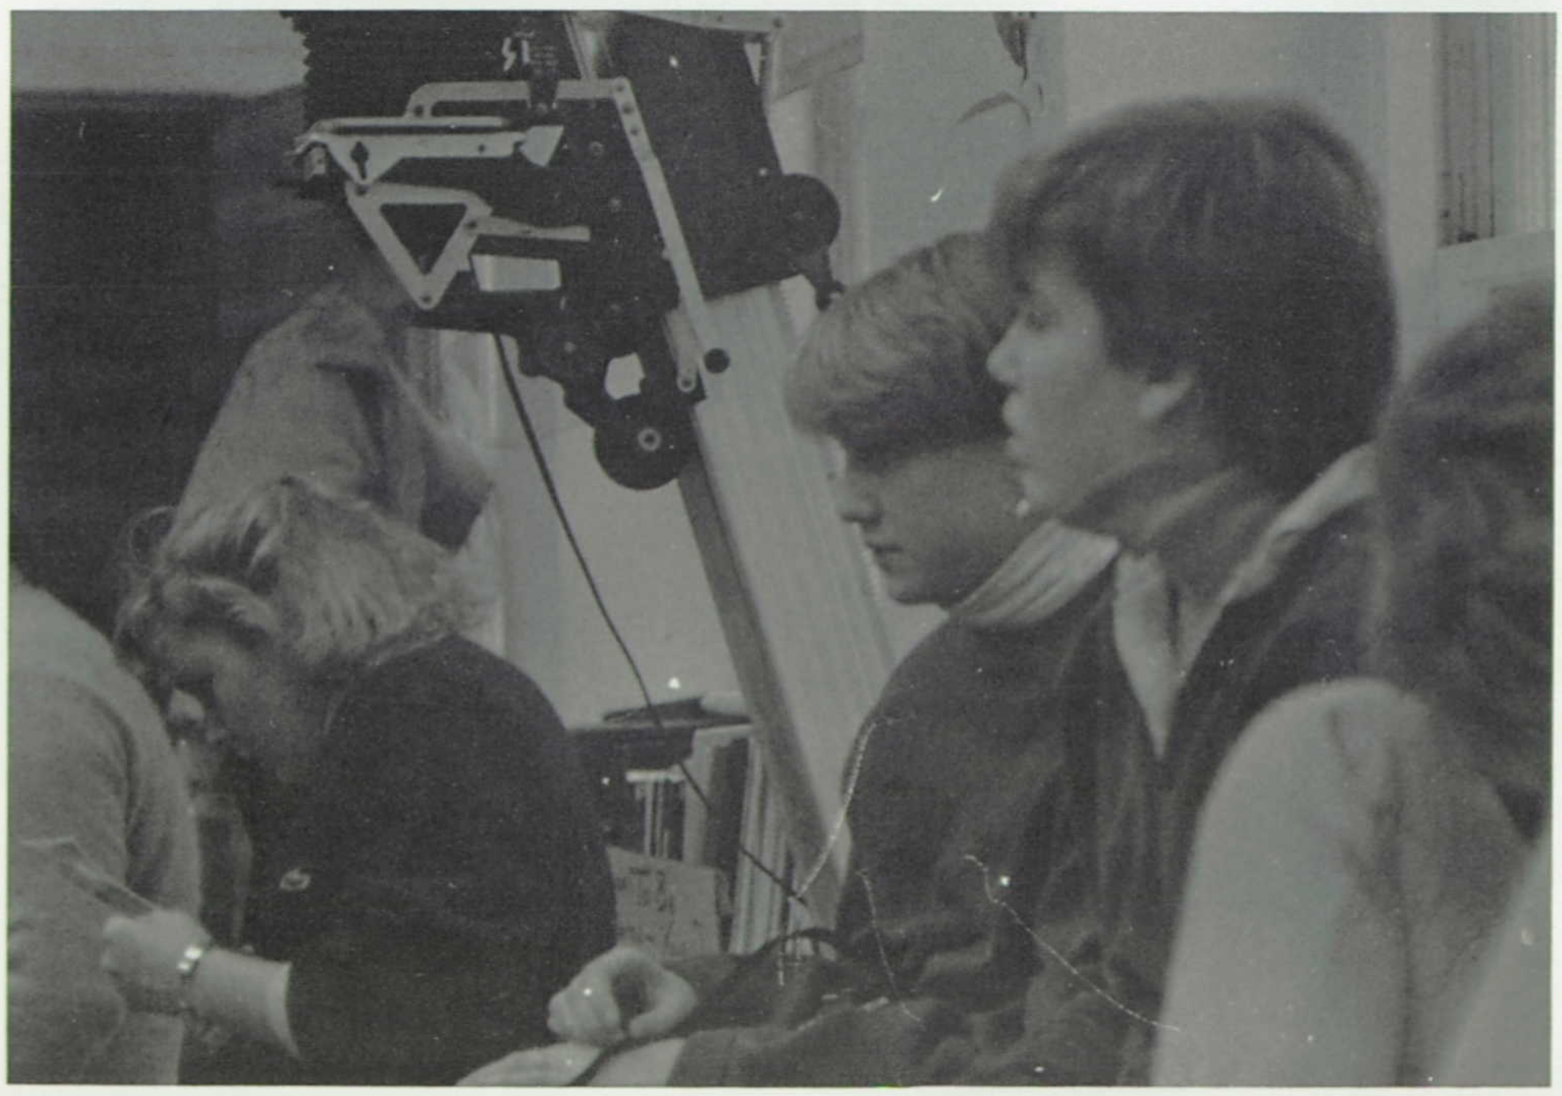

Too much bug spray!!!

"It may have sufficed in the past to spur a child to learn for the sheer satisfaction of his own success. If we have listened to what our students are telling us, learning for personal embellishment or for the acquisition of virtuosity no longer satisfies a generation intensely aware of injustice and impermanence. Learning must become a social enterprise, informed by concern for others. This it can become. Man is his own chief product. The infant who discovers that he can control the movements of his own fingers transforms himself from observer into actor. The child who masters reading unlocks the treasury of the world's heritage. The adolescent who insists upon a critical reexamination of conventional wisdom is making himself into an adult. And the adult whose concerns extend beyond family and beyond nation to mankind has become fully human. By acting on behalf of our species we become men and women. In a world in which wars rage, in which repressive governments subjugate their peoples, in which the pursuit of personal affluence ravages an environment that must be shared by all, there can be no neutrality." - Leon Eisenberg, Science, 1972, 176, 123.
